by Supt. F. H. Beede as a matter in need of attention.

Superintendent Beede stated yesterday that in local schools the temperature is kept at fully 70 degrees, which is decidedly too high.

"In warm weather," said Mr. Beede, "the temperature in our school rooms sometimes gets up to 75 degrees, but with the fresh air from open windows that temperature is not regarded as harmful. But, as I said, the tendency is for too warm school rooms, and I would prefer a temperature on the average of not over 68 degrees."—New Haven Journal-Courier.

Rev. J. E. Klingberg announced Mon-y that donations to the building fund the new Swedish children's home for the new Swedish children's home are coming in so frequently that he is confident that work on the hullding will be commenced in a few weeks.

On Saturday he received a check for $4,000 to be applied to the fund, and two weeks ago a denation of $1,000 to the building fund and $250 for the children. The names of the benevolent sheets are withheld from publication, but it is known that they were both lover Britain donors. The building fund has now reached the fine total of $17,000.—New Britain Herald.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

Will Be Wanted Soon at State School Juni7daw for Boys.

The place of physical director of the State School for Boys is a good ob that is awaiting some bright and daptable man. Only two more weeks ill mark the completion of the new maseium by the H. Wales Lines or pany, so Superintendent Charles [Williams is serously considering the appointment of a physical director.

Mr. Williams is of the opinion that no officer in the employ of the school will exert a greater influence over the boys than the man who by his physical skill and gymnastics will arouse the wholesome respect of all the boys, who admire muscle and markood. The new physical directors command over the boys and the discipline he enforces will mean much to the other officers of the school.

POETRY.

WHEN IT ALL STARTED.

When Adam met Eve he was bashful and ship,
And he stammered and blushed every time she came nigh.
Till at last he grew boid and began to pay court (You may put all your trust in this faithful report).
And he murmured to her on an evening serene;
"You're the prettiest girl that I ever have seen'—
And that's how that started.

Yielded shyly and sweetly to Adam's embrace, embrace.

And put up her lips for the true lover's pact
(You may set this all down as an absolute fact).

She inquired, while he breathed the fond names on his list:
"Have you said that to all of the girls you have kissed?"

And that's how that started.

When Adam asked Eve if she would be bis bride.

She looked up and looked down and she sighed and she sighed.

And she let him take hold of her lily white hand.

(This is history now, as you must understand).

Then she said, in a voice that was dulcetly low:

"I must take time to think. "Tis so sudden, you know.

And that's how, that started.

When they had been married a few Then Adam told Eve: "We're lavited To a dinner and dance with some friends down in Nod"

(Thus is truly authentic, although it sounds odd).

Eve replied, with a sad and sorrowful
